Fort Worth Music Festival 2027 Terms

Cancellation & Refund Policy
All Fort Worth Music Festival 2027 registration purchases are final and nonrefundable.

Registration fees are nonrefundable for any reason, including but not limited to illness, personal emergencies, changes in travel plans, transportation disruptions, weather, inability to attend, or other circumstances affecting the attendee.

The Fort Worth Music Festival Experience includes programming, hospitality, festival access, meals, experiences, venues, entertainment, transportation, and other components that may be provided by REALM Global, John Zimmerman Group, Love Enterprises, the Fort Worth Music Festival, and other third-party partners and vendors.

Programming, artists, venues, schedules, transportation, hospitality offerings, and individual experiences are subject to change. Changes, substitutions, cancellations, or modifications to individual components of the experience do not entitle an attendee to a refund or credit provided the overall event continues.

If you are unable to attend, please notify REALM at concierge@realm-global.com.
Registration Transfers
Registrations may not be resold.

Requests to transfer a registration to another attendee may be considered by REALM in its sole discretion and must be submitted in writing prior to February 19, 2027.

Any approved substitute attendee must meet applicable registration requirements and provide all required attendee information before credentials or access can be issued.

REALM is not obligated to approve any transfer or substitution.
Event Cancellation, Postponement & Force Majeure
If circumstances beyond REALM's reasonable control make conducting the Fort Worth Music Festival Experience impracticable, illegal, commercially unreasonable, or impossible, REALM may postpone, relocate, modify, substitute, or cancel all or a portion of the experience.

Such circumstances may include, without limitation, acts of God, extreme weather, fire, flood, natural disaster, war, terrorism, civil disturbance, governmental action, labor dispute, venue closure, transportation disruption, public-health emergency, epidemic or pandemic, artist or entertainment cancellation, or other circumstances outside REALM's reasonable control.

REALM will work in good faith with its festival, hospitality, venue, entertainment, and vendor partners to preserve comparable value wherever reasonably possible.

If the entire FWMF Experience is canceled and cannot reasonably be rescheduled or replaced, any refund, credit, replacement benefit, or other remedy available to registered attendees will be determined based upon amounts recoverable from the third-party vendors and partners supporting the event and the nonrefundable commitments already incurred by REALM.

REALM will not be required to refund amounts that have become nonrefundable or unrecoverable from third-party festival, hospitality, venue, entertainment, transportation, or other providers.

To the extent REALM receives recoverable funds or credits applicable to attendee registrations, REALM may, in its discretion, provide attendees with an appropriate refund, future-event credit, replacement benefit, or combination thereof.

Photography & Media Release

By attending the Fort Worth Music Festival Experience, you acknowledge that professional photography, video, and audio recording may occur throughout the event.

You grant REALM Global and its event partners permission to use photographs, video, audio, testimonials, and other event content in which you may appear for marketing, promotional, editorial, archival, and business purposes without additional compensation, subject to applicable law.

Privacy & Guest Information

REALM may share registration and attendee information as reasonably necessary to operate the FWMF Experience, including with John Zimmerman Group, Love Enterprises, the Fort Worth Music Festival, event sponsors, strategic partners, venues, hospitality providers, transportation providers, and other contracted vendors.

Information may be used for purposes including registration, credentials, event access, hospitality, safety, transportation, communications, introductions, and approved post-event follow-up.

REALM does not grant third parties unrestricted ownership of or marketing rights to REALM's proprietary member or guest databases.

For additional information regarding the collection and use of personal information, please review REALM's Privacy Policy.

Attendee Responsibility

Attendees are responsible for their own airfare, lodging, personal transportation outside the published program, and any optional or additional experiences unless expressly stated otherwise.

Attendees are responsible for complying with all applicable venue, festival, hospitality, safety, age, identification, and conduct requirements.

REALM reserves the right to remove an attendee from any portion of the experience for conduct that REALM reasonably determines poses a safety, legal, operational, or community concern. Removal for conduct does not entitle the attendee to a refund or credit.

Acceptance of Terms

By completing registration for the Fort Worth Music Festival 2027 Experience, you acknowledge that you have reviewed and agree to these Terms & Conditions, including the cancellation, refund, transfer, force majeure, photography, privacy, and attendee-responsibility provisions described above.